Lehrbuch von der Hebammenkunst.

Wien, Trattner, 1775.

Illustrated with 14 attractive copper engravings folding plates of Anatomy and Pathological Birth Presentations.

Raph Johann Steidele, (1737-1823) conducted a private obstetrics school at Vienna from 1771 and served as a professor of obstetrical theory in Vienna University from 1797 to 1817. In this book realistic plates appear to follow very closely after those of William Hunter's classic 'Anatomy of the Human Gravid Uterus', (Edinburgh 1774), although much reduced in scale. They illustrate shoulder, breech, footling and arm presentations, chord prolapse, chord around the neck, etc., quite a thorough and clear graphic review of necessary knowledge.
